

Columbia

Inspired by the National Watch and Clock Museum, Columbia School District, and the Columbia-Wrightsville bridge

Situated along the Susquehanna River, Columbia boasts a rich history intertwined with antique shops, local craftsmanship, and the well-known Turkey Hill Dairy. The town is a hub for heritage tourism, drawing visitors to its notable landmarks like the National Watch and Clock Museum and the Susquehanna Riverlands. Its combination of riverside charm and historic character provides businesses with opportunities in tourism, retail, and specialty goods.
